Green IT award

The Information Technology (IT) team received the prestigious Green IT award for the year 2012 for its commitment to environmental sustainability. The team has adopted the principle of 'Reduce, Reuse and Recycle' in its operations and rolled out a number of green initiatives to support the Environment Management System. The Green IT award has been instituted by the CIO Magazine to recognize the efforts of Indian enterprises that are implementing smart, efficient strategies to achieve green, sustainable IT establishments in their organizations. On behalf of Reliance Life Sciences, Gopal Rangaraj, Head IT received the award.
